

Alexol Premium Hand Cleaner

One Hand Cleaner for all Industries

Finally, a Hand Cleaner that removes oils, grease, paint, and adhesives without the use of harsh ester solvents.

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

There are a multitude of hand cleaners available on the market today, and all can remove light soiling. However, the job of removing carbon, grease and even paints has been left to the specialized products on the market. More recently – European Hand Cleaners have entered the scene, offering better cleaning for a wider variety of contaminants, without harsh solvents. Alexol is such a product. Developed right here in Australia by Sierra.

Unlike other paint removing hand cleaners, Alexol does not contain harsh esters that can often dry the skin, or even worse cause dermatitis. Alexol contains natural lanolin and citrus oil, with a special blend of surface-active agents and fine grit to thoroughly clean the skin and leave it feeling soft and supple – naturally.
